

Date Claimer & Call for Presenters

ETAQ plans to conduct a professional learning activity for English teachers as outlined below. Submissions are called from people willing to share their professional work with participants via presentations/workshops.

Date	Saturday 17 August 2024
Venue	Lourdes Hill College, 86 Hawthorne Road, Hawthorne
Theme	Journeys of Joy, and Justice
Elaboration	The focus of this year's conference is "Journeys of Joy and Justice" and we are inviting proposals that explore opportunities for engaging, equitable and joyful learning in English classrooms. We aim to provide a platform for teachers to share, discuss and ignite inspiration within the endlessly changing landscape of English curriculum and learning. The conference will focus on how texts, teachers and learning experiences can bring both joy and justice to all students, every day. Some of the topics we are interested in exploring include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• using technology, including Artificial Intelligence to enhance the English classroom experience;</li> <li>• developing culturally responsive teaching practices in English;</li> <li>• promoting literacy and critical thinking skills;</li> <li>• incorporating creativity into the curriculum; and</li> <li>• fostering a love of reading in a technological world.</li> </ul> If you have another workshop proposal which you think fits the theme of Journeys of Joy and Justice, we encourage you to submit it.
Format	Two keynote addresses plus a suite of supporting workshops in three fifty-five-minute sessions.
